Not only a top of tourist destination, but also a place where you can catch the heaven views...

The name Changchun means "eternal spring", but actually this place is so cold in Winter. At other places in China, people make a greeting with a question "Have you eaten yet?" but in Changchun, the common greeting is "Are you cold?". Changchun is the capital of Jilin province, in China's northeast region, that's why it's very cold in Winter. But in Changchun, the winter creates a special beauty. You will be surprised at the beauty of rime, snow and ice in Changchun and have a view at Changbai Mountain, one of the most famous mountain in China. In addition, Changchun offers many natural scenic spots and historical and cultural sites, such as: South Lake Park, Banruo Temple, Puppet Imperial Palace, etc. The food and shopping is one of the special features in Changchun. It's worth to make a trip to Changchun though the cold of winter.

Climate

Changchun has a monsoon-influenced climate, with great seasonal temperature extremes. Winters are long, very cold, and windy, with a January high of  $-10^{\circ}\text{C}$  ( $14^{\circ}\text{F}$ ). However there is little snow and the air is dry. Summers are very warm and humid, with extended periods of  $30^{\circ}\text{C}$  ( $86^{\circ}\text{F}$ ) highs, though the average high in July is  $28^{\circ}\text{C}$  ( $82^{\circ}\text{F}$ ).

Best visiting time

Winter is the best time to visit Changchun because of its fancy snow-covered landscape and unique wusong, beautiful rime hung on the branches. In general, there are no distinctive differences between the first three seasons if you want to travel in Changchun. The temperatures of the three seasons are generally temperate and pleasant.

History & Culture

After hundreds of years' suffering and decades of development, Changchun now has become a center of economy, politics and culture in north-east China. Represented by its scenic spots including the Puppet Imperial Palace and the Changbai Mountain, Changchun is a city with a long history and splendid natural beauty. No wonder hundreds of thousands of tourists from home and abroad go to visit Changchun every year.

Festivals

Transportation to ChangChun

By Air

Changchun Longjia International Airport - 长春龙家国际机场

Has been in operation since September 2005 and is around 30 km east of city center. From the airport there are regular coach services (¥20-30 one way) available to the center. A taxi from the airport to the city you have to pay at least ¥100. The most convenient transport to the city is by train from Longjia station, which is directly connected to the airport by a walkway underneath the parking lot.

By Train

Changchun has four passenger railway stations: Changchun Railway Station (长春站), Changchun West Railway Station (长春西站), Changchun East Railway Station (长春东站) and Changchun South Railway Station (长春南站). The latter two stations are very small and only local trains stop there.

By Bus

There are long distance coaches that regularly go from/to Beijing available from the coach station on Huanghe Road (黄河路). There is also a long distance bus station at the south end of Renmin Avenue (take bus Z306 from the train station). You can also catch coaches and buses from pretty much anywhere in Jilin Province, though they have a reputation for being dangerous and are slightly more expensive, though faster, than the train.

Get around in Changchun

By Taxi

Taxis are the best way to get around. Taxi fares start at ¥5 up to 2.5 km after that ¥1.30/.5 km. Remember to write down address in a paper in case you can't speak Mandarin.

How to search for places?

With phone data or connection to WiFi, a Google Map should be useful in searching for sights, ATMs, hospitals, supermarkets, or wherever you want to go in Beijing. However, due to the limitation of Chinese internet, downloading a VPN in your phone is necessary to avoid the firewall.

Important

Wherever you go, remember to take your passport with you. Whether a hospital or bank, at railway station or police station, you will need your passport.
